

Congress Expected To Agree on End of Taxation on Freight

Senate Backs Extension of Other Levies

Washington — (AP) — Chances appear to favor congressional agreement on elimination of the federal tax on freight despite administration opposition.

The senate late yesterday voted to erase the 3 per cent levy on freight and the 10 per cent tax on passenger fares in passing a bill to continue for another year present rates on major excises and the 52 per cent tax on corporation profits.

In the absence of extension legislation, these rates would drop automatically on July 1.

The action sent the bill to conference with the house, which earlier voted to continue all taxes at present rates.

But in advance of conferees to compromise senate-house differences, there were signs pointing to house retreat in favor of cancellation of the freight levy.

Other Cuts Rejected
There appeared to be little prospect, however, for agreement on cancelling the tax on passenger tickets.

The senate, rejecting other proposed excise cuts including those on new automobiles, voted to eliminate transportation excises which now bring in $700 million a year.

President Eisenhower wants these and other taxes continued on grounds the government needs the revenue.

Except for the transportation tax cuts, the senate supported the Eisenhower administration and congressional leaders in rejecting anti-recession tax slashes at this time.

Before passing the bill by voice vote, the senate defeated proposals to reduce personal income taxes, ease the tax burden on small business and cut in half the 10 per cent levy on new cars.

The bill would cancel scheduled tax reductions on liquor, beer, wine, cigarettes, autos and auto parts. It also would prevent a drop in the corporate tax rate from 52 to 47 per cent.

The treasury estimates the government will avoid a revenue loss of $2,600,000,000 a year if all taxes, including those on transportation, are continued.

House Democratic tax leaders were noncommittal about prospective house action in conference. However, strong pressures have been brought to bear on leaders in favor of a cut in both transportation and automobile excise taxes.

Flames Destroy Plant at Ripon

Ripon — (AP) — The Chicago Pickle Co. plant was destroyed by fire Friday night a few hours after two small children were seen playing with a cigarette lighter at the rear of the old frame structure. Fire Chief Frank Resheske said.

The building contained canned pickles and a carload of glass jars. The flames were brought under control in an hour and 20 minutes.

Resheske declined to estimate the damage pending an inventory by the owners.

Hammaraskjold Talks Appear To Have Failed

New Bomb Blast In Beirut as He Flies to Israel

BY TOM MASTERSON

Beirut — (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold left today to look into a couple of other Middle East hot spots after apparently failing to make any headway toward ending the 6-week-old Lebanese rebellion.

As he flew to Israel after two days of talks, a bomb exploded only a few yards from the presidential palace, another of the hundreds of bombs hurled by terrorists since the rebellion began.

The U.N. secretary general was scheduled to visit Jerusalem and the Jordanian capital of Amman on the way to Cairo, capital of the neutralist United Arab Republic, which Beirut officials charge with supporting the rebels trying to overthrow Lebanon's pro-western government.

Will See Hussein
Jordanian officials said Hammarskjold would meet King Hussein and Premier Samir el Rifai in Amman. U.N. headquarters in New York announced the secretary general would discuss Mt. Scopus, an Israeli enclave in Jordanian territory near Jerusalem where a Canadian U.N. truce official was killed in a clash May 26.

The U.N. announcement said one topic for discussion in Cairo would be the U.N. emergency force which has been separating Egyptian and Israeli troops along their border since their 1956 war.

But another subject of Cairo talks was expected to be Lebanon's violence. President Camille Chamoun of Lebanon has accused the U.A.R. of sending in all taxes, including those on transportation, are continued.

House Democratic tax leaders were noncommittal about prospective house action in conference. However, strong pressures have been brought to bear on leaders in favor of a cut in both transportation and automobile excise taxes.

Hammaraskjold is scheduled to return to Beirut Monday or Tuesday and fly back to New York Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the Lebanese government took another legal step against the rebels as sporadic small-scale warfare against them continued. Warrants were issued for the arrest of 17 rebel leaders on charges of inciting terrorism and rebellion.

Nixon Urges GOP To Work in Unity

Declares Party Leaders Must Close Ranks and Not Panic

Washington — (AP) — Vice President Nixon, seeking to calm Republican jitters over the Sherman Adams controversy, says party leaders should close ranks and not panic.

In a pep talk last night to Republican state chairmen, Nixon said:

"The trouble with Republicans is that when they get into trouble they start acting like a bunch of cannibals."

Handicap to Party
Nixon's words were reported by two state chairmen who said the president made no direct reference to Adams. President Eisenhower's top aide.

A growing number of Republican congressmen have called for Adams to step out or be fired in the light of his acknowledged acceptance of favors from Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

Many Republicans feel GOP election prospects this fall would be harmed if Adams remains as top White House aide even though President Eisenhower says he needs Adams.

But one state chairman, Alphonzo E. Bell, Jr., of California, said Nixon, without mentioning Adams' name, expressed doubt the controversy "will have much effect on the November elections."

Bell said that "as far as California is concerned, the vice president thinks the improvement in the economy will far outweigh any other issue."

He added that he agrees with Eisenhower that Adams should stay on the job.

Thomas G. Judd, Utah state chairman, quoted Nixon as saying Republicans "should pull together regardless of the circumstances."

The vice president also was said to have told the chairmen that Republicans, when in trouble, tend to battle each other instead of fighting the Democrats.

Nixon was host to the chairmen at the windup of a campaign school here. During that meeting, the chairmen split on the Adams issue when their views were sought by reporters.

Meanwhile, Rep. Richard M. Simpson, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, said the Adams controversy "can only be harmful" to the GOP at the ballot box this year.

Simpson, a Pennsylvanian, made plain in an interview that he was not speaking officially for the committee.

Agreement Ends Maritime Strike

New York — (AP) — A maritime strike that tied up American-flag ships in east and gulf coast ports for five days is over.

The Marine Engineers Beneficial association, representing engine room officers on 480 passenger and cargo ships, signed a new 3-year contract last night with a ship owners' committee headed by Ralph E. Casey, president of the American Merchant Marine Institute.

There was no wage increase in the new contract.

The MEBA was the last of four maritime unions to reach the shipowners' organization this week.

A rabbi and his congregation went to the aid of Rev. Louis Scheuring when they heard his parish school had to be razed. Father Scheuring accepted the invitation to use the classrooms on the synagogue's first floor.

UN Committee Meets To Discuss Executions

Two Priests Disagree on Red Charges

Hong Kong — (AP) — A haggard American priest just out of five years in a communist China prison said today he did not deny charges against him. But a fellow priest said his companion was sick and made denials for them both.

The Rev. Joseph P. McCormack, 65, and the Rev. Cyril P. Wagner, 51, were moved almost to tears by the greetings of fellow Catholics when they reached Hong Kong. Both looked worn and older than their years.

Doesn't Deny Charges
At a news-conference shortly after they landed, white-faced Father Wagner of Pittsburgh and Chicago said he did not deny the communist charges. "I did deal in black market currency," he said.

Father McCormack of the Maryknoll seminary in Ossining, N. Y., interrupted him and put his arms around the younger priest's shoulders.

"This man has been sick for five years," he told newsmen. "I deny the charges" against Father Wagner, he said. "My trial and the trial of Father Wagner were ridiculous."

Father McCormack turned to a Hong Kong priest sitting beside Father Wagner and said, "Father, this man is tired. He is ill. He should not have to talk any more."

In announcing their release last Saturday, Peiping radio said Father Wagner was jailed "for sabotaging China's financial ordinance." The broadcast said Father McCormack was imprisoned on charges of collecting Chinese political and economic information "under the cover of being a priest."

Private Funeral Services to be Held for Swope

New York — (AP) — Private funeral services for Herbert Bayard Swope, 76, once proclaimed "the best reporter in America," will be conducted Sunday.

The services, for the family and a few close friends, will be held at 2 p.m. at his Sands Point, N. Y., home on Long Island. Swope died Friday at Doctors Hospital.

Swope was the first newspaperman ever to win a Pulitzer prize. During 20 years as spark-plug of the old New York morning newspaper, the World, he was a reporter, city editor and executive editor. He was the first chairman of the New York State Racing commission, a founder of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, and a former director of the Associated Press.

After entering the hospital June 12, Swope underwent surgery Monday for an intestinal ailment. Post-operative pneumonia set in the next day. His family was with him when he died.

Little Rock School Board Authorized to Suspend Integration

Little Rock, Ark. — (AP) — Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope today granted the Little Rock school board permission to suspend racial integration at Central High school for 24 years.

The decision, received by mail in the U. S. district court clerk's office here, permits the school to remove the seven Negro students still enrolled at Central.

Lemley heard the board's petition for delay in a 3-day hearing here June 3-5. The proposed suspension was opposed by attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Nine Negroes were enrolled under protection of federal troops at Central High last September. One was expelled and another graduated this spring.

Foiled Robber Feared Family Would Starve

Arrested After Bank Teller Stalls On Demand for Cash

Milwaukee — (AP) — A jobless machinist who spent $25 from his last unemployment compensation check for a shotgun attempted to rob a bank Friday. "Because I didn't want my family to starve," Travis Powell, 26, encountered a teller who refused his written demand for money. When he fled the bank without loot and the shotgun he bumped into a policeman, called by a woman customer.

Patrolman Stephen Kwasniewski, 42, grabbed the barrel of the weapon, and Powell surrendered it saying, "Be careful, it's loaded."

Within Walking Distance
Powell, whose car had been repossessed, selected the Mitchell Street State bank, in the heart of a south side business section, because it was within walking distance of his home.

He entered the bank shortly after noon and presented his lettered note demanding money to teller George Roubik who argued, even when looking down the twin barrels of the 12-gauge sawed-off shotgun.

Powell's note instructed Roubik, 50, "Do as this note says if you want to live. This is a holdup. Put the money in the bag I give you."

Powell did not produce a bag and when Roubik stalled, he said, "This is a holdup," displaying the shotgun.

"How much do you want?" asked Roubik.

Suddenly Powell, aware that others in the busy bank had seen the gun and the note, turned and left. He was met by Kwasniewski.

Bonn Embassy Attacked
News of the executions was first released Tuesday in Moscow. Reports since then from Budapest said Nagy probably was hanged and Malter shot early Monday. Their execution after a 12-day trial apparently was decided upon at least two weeks earlier.

Official and unofficial reports continued unabated, highlighted by the demonstrations of Hungarian refugees in the west.

A crowd of 400 refugees and sympathizers hurled rocks through a dozen windows of the Soviet embassy in Bonn. They smashed bottles of ink against its cream-colored walls before West German police broke it up.

In Paris, the French National assembly's foreign affairs committee voted 231-11 to demand that the U. N. condemn all those responsible for the executions. Only the communists opposed the resolution. Hungarian refugees paraded silently to the Arc de Triomphe and some tried to storm the Hungarian legation.

In Moscow, some 200 to 300 Russians threw stones, broke windows and wrote on the walls at the Danish embassy. One legend painted on the walls said—in English—"Down with Danish puppets."

Soviet police turned out in force but persons in the embassy said they saw no indications that anyone was arrested. Danish Ambassador Alex Morch said he protested to the Soviet government but told officials he did not suspect that the government had anything to do with the demonstration.

Holds Private Conference As Protests Grow Against Killing of Revolt Leaders

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS

United Nations, N. Y. — (AP) — The U. N. committee that condemned Russia for suppressing the 1956 Hungarian revolt reopens the case at a private meeting today on the executions of four revolt leaders.

The committee meeting came amid continuing worldwide protests over Hungary's execution last weekend of former Imre Nagy, Gen. Pal Maleter and two journalists.

Hungarian refugees stoned the Soviet embassy in West Germany yesterday while Russians retaliated for an attack on their embassy in Copenhagen by smashing Danish embassy windows in Moscow.

The acting chairman of the U. N. investigation committee, E. Ronald Walker of Australia, said it would "consider the facts as they are known and what steps the committee should take."

Envoy Called Home
Diplomatic sources said there was sentiment in the committee for asking the Soviet Union for a statement on its responsibility in the case. Russia has in the past refused to cooperate with the committee.

The sources also said Yugoslavia might be asked for details on Hungary's pledge of safe conduct for Nagy to leave the country. The committee report a year ago said Soviet forces abducted Nagy as he left asylum in Yugoslavia's Budapest embassy on a safety guarantee from his Russian-installed successor, Premier Janos Kadar.

Yugoslavia called its ambassador home from Moscow yesterday and prepared a stiff protest note to Hungary on the executions.

Ernst Meinertorp of Denmark, a committee member, said the group might prepare a special report on the executions. The U. N. General assembly last autumn overwhelmingly approved the original condemnation report. Other nations represented on the committee are Tunisia, Ceylon and Uruguay.

Wausau Foreman at Wausau Confessed Shooting

Wausau — (AP) — An unemployed foundry foreman, blaming himself for the sagging economic fortunes of his family, shot and killed his wife today and then told his daughter, a nun, "I did it."

Marathon County Dist. Atty. Ronald D. Keberle said 53-year-old Ewald Fust, who had been taking psychiatric treatment, is being held on a first degree murder charge.

Fust's wife, Esther, 52, was slain by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun fired at close range at her head in a downstairs bedroom. Fust said he also had meant to take his own life.

Upstairs asleep at the time were the couple's two daughters, Sister Mary Pierre, 23; and Barbara, 20.

Describes Shooting
A son, Brother Regis, who was stationed at a monastery in St. Nazianz, Wis., was reported en route to a new assignment somewhere in New Jersey.

Keberle gave this account of the shooting:

Fust set an alarm clock for 5:30 a. m. he then went to the basement, got a shotgun and walked into his wife's bedroom. He fired as she, apparently sensing something was wrong, sat up in bed.

Fust then leaned the weapon against the bedroom wall and went upstairs to the daughters' bedroom.

"I did it," he told them. "I've been a poor husband and father."

Barbara hid the gun behind a davenport. She said her father threatened to kill himself. Then she called police.

Sister Mary told Keberle she had taken a brief leave from St. Mary's hospital in Columbus, Wis., to come home and persuade her father to enter a hospital for a mental check-up. He had been taking shock treatments.

Refugee Polish Scientist and His Family Moving to Madison

Baltimore — (AP) — "It gives some touch in the heart."

And those seven words summed up the 8-month first chapter in the American history of a Polish refugee family — Dr. Jerzy Leon Nowinski, a brilliant mathematical researcher, his wife, Maria, and daughter Krystyna.

Joining U.W. Faculty
The happy Nowinskis returned their borrowed furniture today and packed their meager belongings.

They leave Sunday for Madison, Wis., where Dr. Nowinski will join the faculty of the University of Wisconsin as adjunct professor attached to the mathematics research center.

It was last November that Dr. Nowinski, a 52-year-old, 140-pounder with a Charlie Chaplin mustache, came to the United States to lecture at Johns Hopkins university.

On Jan. 3, the state department announced asylum had been granted Nowinski and his well-known family. Ten days later, his wife and daughter, who had made their way to England in the meantime, joined him here.

They had carefully planned their escape from communist-dominated Poland, leaving their Warsaw home with little more than the clothes on their backs. Dr. Nowinski, a professor at the University of Warsaw, had been one of Poland's top theoretical mathematicians—a specialist in thermoelectricity—dealing with the stress and strain of metals under extremes of temperature.

Dr. Nowinski's new job will be chiefly research at the Wisconsin center subsidized by the army.

He and his family look forward eagerly to the second chapter of their American life with only the normal regrets at leaving kind neighbors and their first real friends.

Neither his wife nor daughter spoke or understood English when they arrived.

Both now speak quite a bit of English. They understand it all.

"I no longer fear something that could happen at any time. I feel myself completely relaxed."

"We are completely happy here as private persons," the scientist added. "If I wanted to give up my work for another job I could do so."

This, he said, would not have been possible in Poland.

"We are going to apply for citizenship as soon as possible," he added.

Americanize Names
Nowinski's first name, Jerzy, has now become George.

And Krystyna has Americanized her name to Christina.

General Valuation Hike in Effect At Little Chute

Little Chute — Field work on the 1958 assessment roll here is nearing completion, according to Nick Vanderpas, assessor.

Taxpayers were reminded that a general valuation increase is in effect this year and applies to all property. The amount of increase is 10 per cent of true value or approximately 25 per cent of the 1957 locally assessed value.

Vanderpas announced that he will have open books at the village hall prior to the regular board of review meetings in July. Dates for the open book sessions will be revealed later.

Taxpayers will have the opportunity to check the new assessments on their property at that time.

The assessor pointed out that the valuation increase is in effect only a clerical change and will not increase the taxes for most property owners.

Vanderpas hastened to add however that a higher tax rate is possible every year, regardless of the percentage of locally assessed valuation. The village board determines the tax levy when the budget is set later in the year.

Senior Baseball League to Start

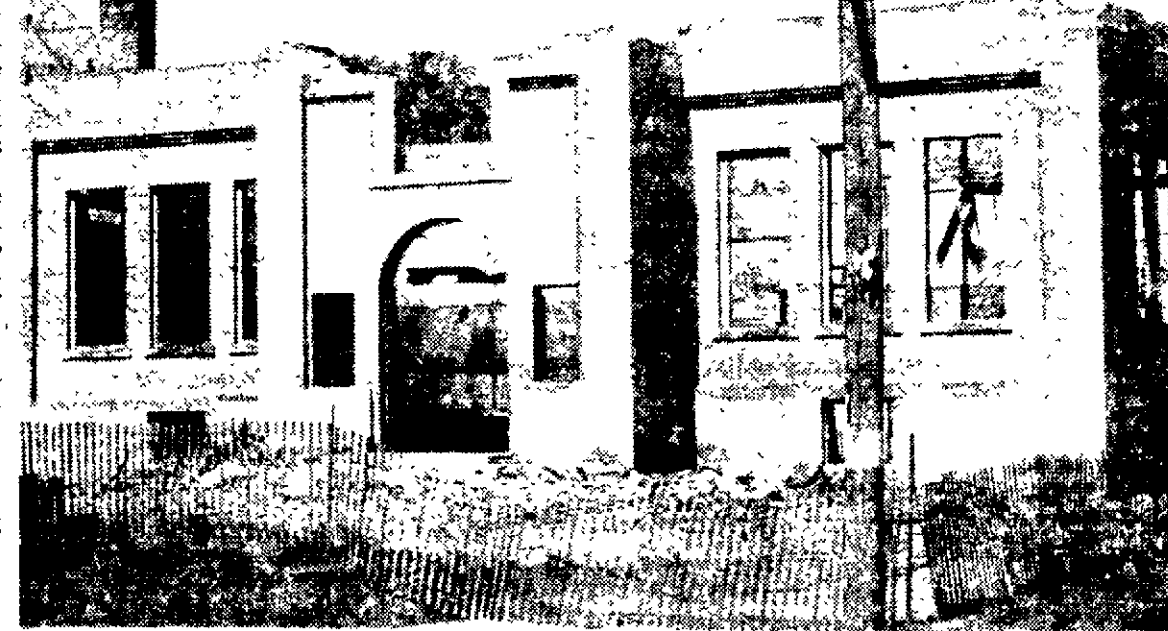

Kimberly — The senior hardball league on the playground will begin play Monday morning, according to Gil Frank, director.

night. Instructor will be Mrs. Nancy Franckowiak.

The high school summer basketball league will open Monday night with the Badgers meeting the Wildcats at 6:30 and the Gophers will face the Hoosiers at 7:30.

Nagels Regains Top
In Softball Wheel
On 7 to 5 Decision

Kaukauna — Shamrock bar lost its first place spot in the City Softball league Tuesday night as Nagels edged the Irish 7 to 5 to take over the lead. The winners now have nine wins and two defeats compared to eight wins and two losses for the losers.

The second game of the night saw Mullens upset VFW 8 to 5. VFW has a record of six wins and four losses while the winners have a record of three wins and seven setbacks.

The Irish outthit Nagels 7 to 6 but failed in the run department as they lost the top spot which they held for a single day. The winners scored three runs in the second inning on a walk, a double and a homer by Dale Kilgas. Three errors, a walk and a sacrifice fly accounted for another tally for the winners in the fifth and three runs crossed the plate in the sixth on two singles, a walk and a double by Lyle Harke.

The losers scored a run in the fifth on an error and a double, added three in the sixth on two walks, a fielders' choice and three singles and then concluded the scoring in the seventh with one run on two errors, a fielders' choice and a single. Mark Schommer had two hits in four trips to pace the losers while Pat Kavanaugh led the winners with two hits in three appearances.

Mullens Score Win

Mullens bunched its nine hits in three innings, and made it pay dividends in the 8 to 5 decision over VFW. The winners scored two runs in the first inning on two doubles and a single and added two in the fourth on a walk, an error a single and a double.

The winners concluded their scoring with four runs in the fifth inning on four hits, including two singles and two doubles. Klubbers Play Reedsville at Home Sunday

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna Klubbers will attempt to go over the .500 mark in league standings at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon when they entertain Reedsville in a Fox River Valley Baseball league tilt.

The invaders have a record of four wins and one defeat, the lone loss being to Little Chute-Kimberly. The team is a hard hitting outfit and could prove a good test for Kaukauna's pitchers. Reedsville has scored 55 runs in five games. Kaukauna's pitchers have held opponents to 18 runs in six games, top effort being the seven runs scored by Little Chute.

Reedsville pitchers have given up 42 runs in the five games. Kaukauna has added hitting power with several veterans, back from school and coupled with the hurling of Gerry Hoff, Dale Kilgas, and Joe DeBruin could prove dangerous for the remainder of the campaign.

LC-K Team to Meet Menasha On Sunday

Little Chute — One of the stiffest tests of the season for the Little Chute-Kimberly baseball team will come Sunday afternoon when the Menasha Macs invade the Little Chute park.

The LC-K team is leading the Fox Valley league with a 6-0 record. Their last outing was Thursday night when they topped Freedom by a narrow 1 to 0 score in a thriller on the Kimberly diamond.

Al Harke or Clete Wynboom will be the probable starter for the LC-K team. Bob Schmidt hurled the win over Freedom, blanking the Irish on only two hits while striking out 14.

Harke pitched for 11 innings against Manitowoc last Sunday. He was relieved by Wynboom who finished out the 13 inning contest and received credit for the win. LC-K won that game 10 to 4 with a six run 13th frame.

Mort Drury will probably go for the Macs against the combined club of the two villages. They will be held at the July 13 meeting.

They will be held at the July 13 meeting.

State Lutheran District Builds Retreat on Lake

Set Between Shadow Lake, Crystal River; Will be Opened in August

Waupaca—Set scenically between the Crystal river and Shadow lake, the new Shadow lake retreat being constructed behind the Bethany home in Waupaca is getting the finishing touches in preparation for late summer use.

Being constructed by the Wisconsin district of the United Evangelical Lutheran church, long range plans call for a $75,000 retreat. About $10,000 will be spent this year.

Directing the camp will be the Rev. Ray Paulson, Bethany home director and associate pastor of Trinity Lutheran church in Waupaca.

The retreat, new this year, so far consists of 16 cabins capable of housing six persons each and a large combination bath house-dining hall being constructed along the south shore of the lake.

Space for Sports

Some of the 24 by 18 foot cabins are set facing Shadow lake while others overlook the Crystal river. In between is ample space for sports and outdoor activities.

The property itself consists of 19 acres including a large stand of pine. In the pine area, picnic tables have been erected and further picnic facilities will be set up this summer. Also planned for this year are family work camps to put the beach area in shape.

A hillside church with a pulpit hewn from a large pine tree will serve as the center of religious activities for the camp.

It will be opened in early August and a full schedule of summer activities and camps are planned for next year.

The games have been changed from Sunday afternoon to give more fans a chance to see the games in the coolness of the evening, rather than sitting in the hot sun of the day, they said.

Members of the team pointed out the Saturday night games will not compete with other Sunday activities, such as golf, boating, fishing and joy riding.

More Attendance? The Merchants have made the change to increase attendance at the games. The managers promised baseball fans will see a worthwhile game by turning out at the home games. The new league is made up of a group of young players and the action is fast, they added.

Platforms Open the Way for Tax Discussion

A study of the platforms of the Republican and Democratic parties of Wisconsin makes it apparent that the way is being opened for a fair discussion of all sources of tax revenue including the sales tax. If that is so it is a good thing for the people of this state. Nothing could be more foolish than to shut off discussion of any form of taxation in the present circumstances.

A considerable element within the Republican party has been advocating a sales tax for some time, but a stronger element led by Gov. Thomson has successfully opposed it. The Democrats, led by William E. Proxmire in his unsuccessful campaigns for governor and again in his successful campaign for senator, were able to beat down all public discussion of such a tax within their party.

Since the active candidates for governor in the last election were both opposed to a sales tax, no intelligent discussion of the idea took place on the stump. Later Gov. Thomson's threat to veto any sales tax legislation prevented any movement getting started during the present administration.

Nevertheless many people in both parties who are well informed about the state's financial situation believe that additional sources of tax revenue must be developed in the near future. Apparently Sen. Gaylord Nelson, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, has been peering into the future and is not willing to be tied to the present sources of revenue in the event he wins the governorship. He is credited with shaping the finance plank in the Democratic platform to what he believes will be his and his party's needs in the event of success at the polls.

Likewise the Republicans at their recent convention adopted a finance plank which left room for both sides of the sales tax idea. Those opposing the tax point out that the platform does not advocate a sales tax, while those favoring the tax say the platform does not exclude the possibility of a sales tax.

This is an improvement over the situation in the last gubernatorial campaign when the mere mention of a sales tax brought gasps and denunciations from both sides. However, the question has not yet reached the point where there is to be an out-and-out campaign on this issue. It is now a question to be fought out within the parties. The final battle probably will come when the need for more money for the state forces a decision as to whether the income tax rates are to be boosted or the situation relieved by a sales tax.

Most students of state finances are agreed that the time of decision is not far in the future. That is why full discussion of the problem is important now.

The New UC Benefit Laws

Sen. Robert P. Knowles, of the state government operations committee of the Legislative Council chose wisely when he announced that his committee will give special study to the state's unemployment compensation law in the months remaining before the regular legislative session begins next January.

Sen. Knowles implied, at least, some concern about the policy implications of the amendments to that program so precipitately adopted at the initiative of Gov. Thomson in the special session of the legislature a week earlier.

The amendments make the Wisconsin statute a decidedly liberal one. Relatively few of the smaller states of the country will attain, we would predict, a benefit duration of up to 39 weeks, and a ceiling of $42 a week for the covered unemployed. Always before the amendments approved by the legislature were prepared carefully by an advisory committee reputedly representing employees, employers and the public, and only after repeated public hearings under the auspices of that committee, the industrial commission and the legislature itself. Always the modifications were modest ones. No single legislature has ever granted such sizeable increases in benefits, with so little reflection or public participation in the discussions, as the special legislature which met at the governor's call recently.

Two claims are made for these amendments that some employer groups, at least, maintain are specious. It is said that these are "emergency" and "temporary" measures. It is also said that these multi-million dollar sums in additional benefits can be disbursed without cost to the employer who finances this program through payroll taxation.

Those who have watched the legislative process are justified in having the gravest doubts that any legislature will ever cut back benefits. The private citizen might make his own inquiries on the point, to his own legislative representative. The legislator who will be willing to pledge a reversion, a year hence, to the lower payments and shorter duration of the law as it existed until this month will be scarce indeed.

It is true that there will be no immediate penalty on the employer. That employer who has no layoffs and has had a stable employment record will feel no effect whatever. That employer who has had an unfavorable employment experience will in fact be entitled to a payroll tax reduction — but will make it up in future years. The new benefits will be paid from a surplus fund, made up of earnings and dividends and excess tax payments of other years. But it is only fair to note that such money belongs to the employing community as a whole, and could have been returned to employers in proportion to their original contributions as a rebate. That would have been an anti-recession measure too.

A Lesson on Federal Income Taxes

Alfrida von Nardoff has won a total of $253,500 on a television quiz show and is now the all-time top money winner on such shows. In winning this huge sum she has shown remarkable knowledge of events and people in all cultural fields. But she is probably more famous for the attention she has attracted innocently and unintentionally to the federal income tax rate schedules.

Most people are well aware of the progressive rates of the federal income tax but not sufficiently aware to avoid astonishment at the fact that Miss von Nardoff must pay the government $205,505 out of her earnings and has only $47,995 left after taxes. When Miss von Nardoff reached the $200,000 mark she also reached the 91 per cent bracket. From that point on whatever she won cost her 91 cents on the dollar.

When that astounding fact broke on the public consciousness many thought it was "just awful" that the government should take such an unreasonable amount of her winnings. However, it did not take long for people to become accustomed to that piece of information. Now when the announcer tells Miss von Nardoff that she has just won another $5,000, the TV viewers will frequently correct him saying, "she gets 9 per cent of that which is $450, not bad for two minutes work." After all, why should we complain, aren't we getting the other $4,550?

Cole's Circus Coming to Town

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of June 21, 1879.

All the small boys and a heavy percentage of the large boys are happy once more for Cole's Circus museum and menagerie has opened out in all its glory. It will arrive in Appleton July 1st.

The various departments of the circus are in excellent condition just now. Money has been lavished upon everything with a free hand, and the result is one of the best shows that ever started out on the road.

The circus bills are up in Appleton and as usual the air is full of tigers and lions on the rampage. The famous bareback rider is true to life and the most perfect of anything of his kind ever seen. The posters are the handsomest ever shown in Appleton.

Appleton sportsmen who visited the Menominee Indian reservation that week said frost and hail the early part of the week caused almost irreparable damage to farm crops. Many fields of grain and corn were almost completely destroyed.

Officers of Appleton Commandery, Knights Templar, were installed at a ceremony which followed a picnic supper served by Ladies of Sir Knights. Sale of Alaska Was Strangest Real Estate Deal

Liability to Russia, U. S. Not Sure Why It Wanted Vast Area

BY G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Newsfeature Writer

It must have been the strangest real estate deal in history.

Here was a desolate parcel of land thousands of miles from nowhere. The man who owned it figured it was a liability and knew his days as owner were numbered. So he asked 10 million dollars for it.

The man who wanted to buy it didn't have the slightest idea what he would do with it. He didn't know whether the people he worked for would approve. And he certainly didn't know where he was going to get the money. So he offered five million.

At 4 a. m. one March day they compromised at just over seven million, sat down at a card table and signed the papers that transferred the vast territory of Alaska from Russia to the United States.

Now, some 91 years later, Alaska seems likely to become the 49th state. If she doesn't make it this year, her backers are confident she will become a full-fledged member of the Union next year.

Dismay in Kremlin

It must make the gentlemen in the Kremlin very unhappy.

For $7,200,000 the United States purchased 375,000,000 acres of land — at a price of less than two cents an acre. It acquired billions of feet of timber; streams choked with fish; fabulously rich veins of gold, copper, silver and lead; thousands upon thousands of fur-bearing animals.

A bargain? Certainly, one of history's greatest. But no one knew it then.

It was more than just a physical acquisition of land. It was an assumption of power that consolidated the dominant U. S. position on the Pacific slope. And it was a surrender of power that saw Russia abandon her strategic foothold in America and — for years to come — isolate herself from the Western world.

William H. Seward, secretary of state who negotiated the deal for the United States, had no idea what a buy he had made. Baron Edward de Stoeckl, Russian minister in Washington, figured he had come out of the deal lucky.

Seward and de Stoeckl signed their agreement in Washington on March 31, 1867. Half a year later, on Oct. 18, a dream of empire died in the misty rain that swept across Sitka, Alaska.

Final Frustration

Capt. Alexei Pestchourov, commissioner of the czar, barked an order. The double eagle emblem of Imperial Russia moved slowly down the flagpole, then caught in the balyards. A Russian ensign scrambled up the pole, tore the flag loose, and hurled it down on the upturned faces of the czar's soldiers.

Thus — on this final note of frustration — ended the Russian occupation of North America.

Capt. Pestchourov saluted his American counterpart and said, "By authority from his Majesty, Emperor of all the Russians, I transfer to the United States the territory of Alaska."

Russ Had Plans

There were ghosts of Russia's past in Sitka that day. The ghost of Nikolai Rezanov, who schemed and dreamed of a Russian city on San Francisco Bay.

Of Alexander Baranov, who planned a series of Russian trading posts down the Pacific coast, supplied from Russian plantations in the Hawaiian Islands.

Of Baranov's faithful lieutenant, Ivan Kuskov, who built Ft. Rossiya (now Ft.

Ross) and established a Russian colony just 50 miles north of San Francisco.

These men were empire builders denied their tools, architects of expansion whose plans died on the drawing board. Had their visions and energies been shared in the courts of the czars in St. Petersburg, Alaska might yet belong to Russia; Northern California, Oregon and Washington might today be under the hammer and sickle.

It is a paradoxical picture that history paints of Russia's brave drive from the Volga to the Yukon, and her subsequent timid withdrawal into her massive Siberian shell.

Hunted Off California

Russia's pioneers were in Alaska more than 30 years before the 13 American colonies rebelled against the rule of England's King George III. They were hunting sea otters off the California coast when no white man had ventured west of the Missouri river. They were in the Hawaiian Islands while the United States was still licking the wounds of the War of 1812.

There was no one to say them nay in Alaska, save the primitive natives who were soon subdued.

There was no one to say them nay in California, save the unimaginative and lightly armed Spaniards, who had no idea of the value of the land they occupied.

Yet the Russians merely marked time while Americans pushed relentlessly westward and possessed California at almost the very hour in history it revealed wealth that staggered the imagination.

They marked time in Alaska until it became apparent that St. Petersburg could no longer maintain her meager colonies and that it would be better to sell than be forced out.

Saw Destiny of U. S.

The last Russians left Ft. Rossiya Dec. 30, 1841. In another 25 years the Russian Crown recognized "the manifest destiny of America" and opened negotiations to sell Alaska to the United States.

A bitter pill indeed for the ghosts of Rezanov, Baranov and Kuskov. An ironic climax to one of the great pioneering stories of all time.

Russia began its move to the Pacific about 1576 — a half century before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock. In 66 years, the twinkling of an eye as history measures time, they pushed eastward nearly 6,000 miles to the Sea of Okhotsk, which pounds the shores of Japan and the Kurile Islands.

By comparison, it took the Americans nearly two centuries to span about half that distance, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Bering Charts Coast

In 1728 Vitus Bering, Danish-born sea captain in the Russian navy, charted the northern coast of Siberia, passed through the straits that now bear his name, and established that Asia and America were two separate continents.

In 1734, eight years after the American colonies declared their independence Gregor Shelikov and his wife Natalya dropped anchor in Three Saints' Bay on Kodiak Island and established the first Russian colony in North America.

Fifteen years later Grand Duke Paul granted a royal charter to the Russian-American Co., giving it title to Alaska and the Aleutians. The company was also given full rights to fortify towns, use ships, declare war, hold commercial intercourse, and make treaties at its own discretion.

Shelikov, whose dream it was to establish a sprawling Russian dominion in the New World, had died in the meantime. Alexander Andreevich Baranov was named head of the company.

Built First Ship

By the time the charter was granted, Baranov had already strengthened the company's position, launched the first ship ever built in Alaska and made an uneasy peace with the natives.

Baranov organized a hunting fleet of 1,000 Aleuts that fanned out over the Pacific and returned with rich cargoes of pelts. When Yankee traders from New England sailed around the horn and into the northwest, Baranov dealt himself into their profitable trade with the Indians.

Baranov decided he needed outposts in California to supply food, read the rich fur harvest, and serve as bases for further expansion.

In April, 1806, Nikolai Rezanov sailed into San Francisco Bay with a cargo of tools, fabrics and leather for barter with the Spanish.

Despite the strict law of Madrid — no colonial trading with foreigners — he soon had a full cargo of grains, meats and vegetables.

He had more than that. He had a vision of a great Russian city where the Spaniards had only a lightly defended fort and mission.

Promised Land

This was truly the promised land beyond the seas for Russia. The rich lands lay basking in the sun, begging for exploitation. A handful of men in tattered uniforms wouldn't stand much chance against the soldiers and sailors of the czar.

But it was soon apparent that force might not be necessary.

Dona Concepcion de Arguello, one of California's most radiant maidens and daughter of the Spanish commandant, fell head over heels in love with Rezanov. Here was a chance for Rezanov to further Russia's expansion by peaceful means, a method that offered him greater personal prestige than would an armed conquest by the czar's admirals and generals.

Rezanov asked de Arguello for his daughter's hand. The commandant was flattered, but he was hesitant, too. Rezanov belonged to the Greek Orthodox church. There was no chance he would embrace the faith of Rome. To do so would cost him his career, possibly his life.

Conflicting Religions

Finally, a compromise was reached: Rezanov would take his shipload of supplies back to Sitka. Then he would go to St. Petersburg and lay before the czar a plan for a treaty with Spain. After that he would go to Rome to seek the Pope's consent to the marriage.

Had it worked out that way, the course of California (and world) history might have been changed. The Russians would have had a solid foundation in California, an excellent base for further expansion — either by negotiation or armed might.

But, in crossing Siberia in the dead of winter, Rezanov fell from his horse into an icy stream. Next day he was feverish, but insisted on pushing forward. Several weeks later, still weak and ill, he fell from his horse again. This time a hoof struck him on the head. In a few days he was dead.

Even before the news of Rezanov's death drifted back to Alaska, Baranov had another plan in motion to colonize the rich lands in the south.

Survey Coast

In 1806 he sent two ships to survey the coast from Washington to California. One, commanded by Ivan Kuskov, sailed into Bodega Bay, about 40 miles north of San Francisco. He liked what he saw — no Europeans, and land especially suitable for agriculture.

Two years later Kuskov again dropped anchor in Bodega Bay. This time he had 95 Russian colonists, a fleet of 40 skinboats manned by 80 Aleuts, and all the equipment and tools necessary to found a permanent colony.

A stockade 250 by 300 feet was built. Cannon captured in Napoleon's march on Moscow were mounted in blockhouses. Crops were planted and cattle put out to pasture. Grape vines were brought from Peru, peach trees from Chile.

Trade flourished with the Indians and Spaniards. Cargoes of foodstuffs were shipped north to the Russian settlements in Alaska.

The colony prospered, but it didn't last.

They Hesitated

Why? Because the Russians hesitated, and were lost. Peering over their shoulders they saw hordes of Americans pressing on them from three sides. The Russians weren't prepared to negotiate for what they had, nor to fight for more.

They saw the handwriting on the wall in the Monroe Doctrine of 1823: "... the American continents are no longer subject to any European colonial establishments."

They tried to sell the colony to the British, but Britain had no desire to settle in the path of America's westward march.

Finally, in 1841, the Russians sold Ft. Rossiya to a Swiss-born pioneer, John A. Sutter. He wanted it principally for those brass Napoleonic cannon.

Gold Comes Too Late

It was typical Russian luck that a few years later gold was discovered in the millrace of another Sutter possession not far from the fort.

The Russian attempt to colonize Hawaii ran the same course. They established a plantation in the islands, but let themselves be kicked out when the czar refused to support them against a militarily weak Hawaiian king.

The next 25 years saw Russia's North American possessions slipping gradually from her hands.

In 1867, the czar's minister of finance in St. Petersburg wrote to Baron de Stoeckl:

"... (Russia's) business in the future is to control, or at least hold her own in the teeming markets of Japan and China, and not to contend with the British and Yankees for a fur trade that is vanishing or for gold mines that will soon be worked out ... tell (Secretary of State) Seward that the Russian crown recognizes the manifest destiny of the United States ..."

Baron de Stoeckl and Seward began immediate negotiations.

In the early morning hours of March 31, 1867, Seward was playing whist with some friends in his office when he heard that the baron had received final approval of the negotiations from St. Petersburg.

He invited the baron over, swept the cards from the table, and one of history's greatest bargains went into the books.

State Fishing Shows Little Improvement

Wolf River Low; Few Walleyes Hit On Minnows on Big Lake; Spotty Conditions Exist on Most Waters

Wisconsin anglers will find spotty fishing conditions throughout the state this week, according to reports from conservation wardens.

Outagamie county Warden Chuck Wranosky, who has had almost nothing but bad news to report in the way of fishing this season, says a few walleyes are being taken from Lake Winnebago on minnows and night crawlers.

A few catfish are being taken from the Wolf river, he says, but the water is very low and general conditions are anything but good.

Muskie Fishing
Muskie fishermen have been turning up some big fish. A 40-pounder came from Cedar Lake in Polk county and a 48-pounder was reported at Lac Court Oreilles. Another of 32 pounds was taken from Round Lake and another of 20 pounds came from Moose Lake.

Mississippi river waters are dropping, wardens say, increasing the hopes of fishermen there for a good walleye week-end.

The county by county roundup:

Waupaca County — Warden Rex Ottman: Some nice bluegills being caught at Fremont and Bear Lake. Trout fishing good at night on Bear Lake. Large bass biting on Chain O' Lakes. Catfishing good on Wolf river at New London and Fremont.

Marquette County — Warden James Washburn: Trout good evenings, May-fish at Wood Lake at night. Panfishing flowing up but good catches. Catfishing good on Wolf river at New London and Fremont.

Waushara County — Warden Herb Lemke: Trout fishing at its peak on all streams due to excellent catches of May-fish. Good bass fishing. Bluegill fishing very good on all lakes. Northern and walleye fishing poor.

Outagamie County — Warden Chuck Wranosky: Wolf river fishing poor, water very low. Only fish being taken are some catfish and smallmouth bass. Northern and Lake Winnebago also on slow side. Some walleyes being taken on minnows and night crawlers.

Sheboygan County — Warden Glen Popple: Panfish biting good in most waters. Lake and Bear Lake. Trout fishing good on Wolf river at New London and Fremont.

Green Lake County — Warden Bill Bader: Fishing generally slow on most species throughout county. Puckaway Lake producing some fair catches of sizeable perch. Green Lake producing some big lake trout. Some nice rain-bows also being taken in shallow water with artificials. Little Green Lake best for bluegills.

Dodge County — Warden Bill Carrick: Perch fishing very good on Sister Bay, Sturgeon Bay, Quarry and Canal Bounded Bays now producing some fine northern fishing.

Fond du Lac County — Warden Charles Schlumpf: White bass and walleyes good to fair on Winnebago with best catches on windy days. Jumbo perch good on south end of lake. Bluegills and bullheads good on Long Lake. Panfishing good on Wolf and Lake 15. Good catches of northern being taken on Mud Lake.

Waikiki Fishing
Washington County — Warden R. J. Lake: Fishing fair to good. Excellent crappie and bluegill fishing on Fries Lake. Big Cedar, Little Cedar and Lake Five provide good bass fishing. Some walleyes taken at Pike Lake.

Shawano County — Wardens O. K. Johnson and Phil Ziemann: Panfishing good on all waters. Walleyes biting good evenings on Shawano and White Clay lakes. Bass and northern fishing only fair. Trout fishing continues to be spotty with fly fishermen making good catches.

Langlade County — Wardens Carl Miersch and Edward Thrall: Trout fair to good. Walleyes slow. Northern muskies, bass fair to good. Panfishing good. Warmer weather should improve fishing.

Oneida County — Wardens R. G. Olson, Art Knudson and Lawrence Miller: Walleyes good generally. Excellent catches on Wolf Lake. Southern muskies, bass fair to good. Panfishing good. Warmer weather should improve fishing.

Chippewa County — Warden R. A. Nixon: The best fishing continues to be trout and panfish. Trout have been doing well on the larger streams on both streamer flies and live bait and some spinning lures such as French spinners and Abus have been effective. Good catches of bluegills and crappies being made on most lakes. Bass and walleye fishing continues slow. Most bass still on the beds. A few northern being caught on Sea Lions, Keyes and Lake Emily.

Fancy Equipment Isn't Needed to Catch Fish
You can catch a lot of fish without fancy equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, Holcombe, fishing from shore at the Murphy flowage, Rusk county, caught 87 panfish, two largemouth bass and one northern. All of the fish were taken on worms.

Bubolz Urges State Water Safety Laws

Boating Recreation Has Created Problems, Kiwanis Club Told

Enactment of federal legislation allowing states to establish water safety regulations is a necessity,

Gordon A. Bubolz, chairman of the Outagamie County Citizens Safety conference, has told the Appleton Kiwanis club.

Tramendous increase in boating recreation has created serious safety problems on waterways which states are unable to solve because navigable waters are under federal jurisdiction, he stated.

Bubolz noted that the Wisconsin constitution forbids charging boating license fees, further blocking effective enforcement of boating safety regulations.

A further question facing those seeking boating regulations is conflict of state versus local jurisdiction, he said, but added that the problem is one of state-wide concern and should be acted on by the state.

A supreme court decision supports this contention, the chairman said.

Explains Bill
Bubolz explained that a bill now before congress proposes the government grant jurisdiction to the states to enact boating regulations on all waterways.

The bill provides that the federal government will co-operate with the states in enforcing such regulations. The bill proposes that the federal government would exercise control only over larger craft on federal waters. It further provides a system of penalties for reckless operation.

"It is evident that if boating regulation is left entirely to municipalities, we will have a hodge-podge of ordinances, with each municipality having a different set of rules which would discourage tourist trade and confuse the public," Bubolz declared.

"The conservation department has the experience and is qualified to establish boating regulations which would be uniform except when a variance is required due to local conditions."

Under this proposal all enforcement officers, including local peace officers, would have authority to enforce regulations, Bubolz said. He proposed charging a boat registration fee to determine competency of operators and safety of boats.

"Should the registration idea not be sustained by the courts, there is plenty of motor fuel tax money which would provide ample funds for the administration and operation of a boating safety program," the chairman declared.

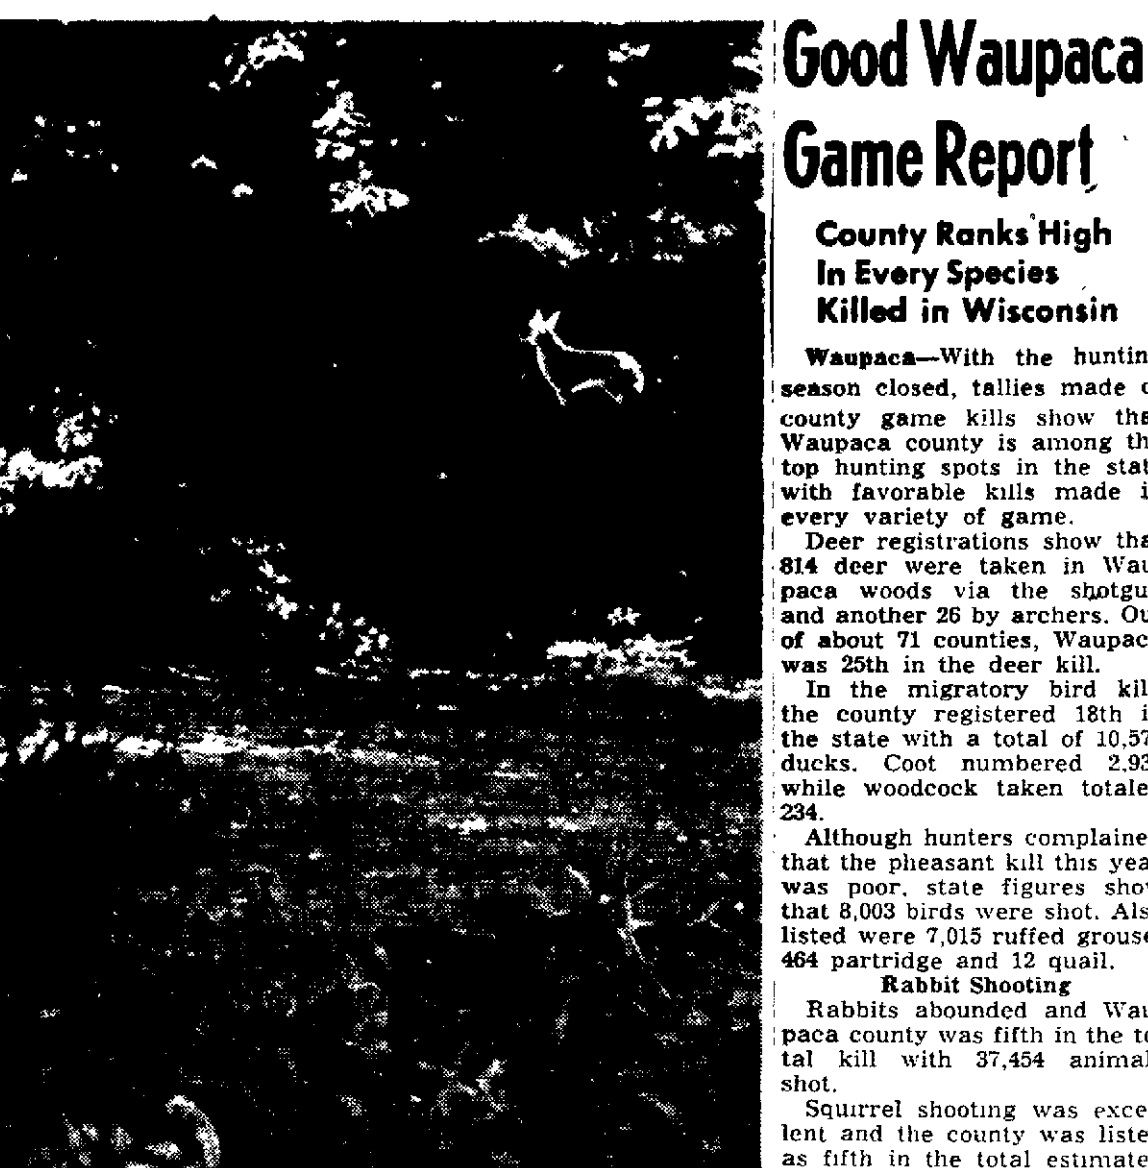

He complimented the city of Appleton for putting safety patrol boats on the Fox river.

Bubolz stressed need for public participation and citizen interest in highway safety, pointing out that mills and factories have demonstrated that accident ratio can be effectively controlled when workers are a part of the safety effort.

There is a need for a well-organized civil defense and civilian protection program in case of disaster, Bubolz said.

'Angler's Widow' Fishing Story Has Two Sides

BY JAY REED
Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

The lot of a fisherman's wife is not always a happy one.

Time stands still for a male when he carries on his endless pursuit of a finny trophy. He fishes while meals grow cold. He spends the family's recreation money on copper-plated, jointed wobblers. He will be irritable when he fails. He will reach the height of elation when his creel is full.

But what of the woman who waits and endures?

Say That Again
In an effort to reach "the other side," the Post-Crescent today interviews what may or may not be a typical "angler's widow." Names have been changed, of course, to protect the innocent.

"Good morning Mrs. Hackleback. I'm from the Post-Crescent and I'd like to talk to you about fishing. I understand your husband is quite a fisherman, is that right?"

"You can say that again, doll. That man would rather fish than eat and often does."

"What's your husband's name?"

"Herman."

"Herman Hackleback, eh? Well now, tell me, how long have you been married?"

"Twenty-three years, doll, and that means 23 years of almost nothing but fishing."

I think he cut his teeth on a jointed pikie. He doesn't "All his life! Listen, doll, know anything else. It's ice fishing in the winter and trolling and casting and fly fishing in the summer. Lamprey Eel Shrinking as Fish Perish
Madison — The unpopular lamprey eel of Lake Michigan is shrinking in size as it has destroyed some of its former food supply, state fishery biologists have discovered.
Specimens up to 22 inches in length were common a decade ago, when the depredations of the creature upon the lake trout started to cause alarm in conservation circles. The trout have now been virtually exterminated and the predator has turned to smaller fish, including the lake chub, for food.
As a consequence, it is now difficult to find one of the lampreys more than 20 inches in length, although they are so abundant as to cause one of the state's most acute wildlife management programs, says the state conservation department in a bulletin.

Visitors From Over the Country registered at Colman hall Friday for the 5-day convention of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. Seated, from left, are the Mmes. Irma Estes, S. G. Cramer and S. A. Morell, all of Milwaukee. Standing at the counter, same order, are Miss Vera Shank, Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Adelaide Noyes, Belair, Md., and Mrs. Emily Simon, Baltimore. Issues Statement

'Not Communists,' Women's Unit Meeting at Lawrence Contends

The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, currently holding its annual convention on the Lawrence college campus, is not affiliated with any other organization or pressure group, including the communists, a statement issued by the organization says.

The statement was in reply to a letter appearing on today's editorial page. The letter, signed by Capt. Joseph W. Bollenbeck, Madison, implies the league has received communist financial aid.

The organization's statement, signed by Miss Orle Pell, Washington, president of the United States section, says: "The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom was founded in 1915 by Jane Addams and other American and European women leaders. It has always been an international organization, supported chiefly by individual contributors and dedicated to removing the political, economic, and psychological causes of war and to fostering ideals of brotherhood and cooperation among nations, classes and individuals.

20 Countries
"The WILPF now has sections in 20 countries where independent non-governmental organizations can be active. It is not affiliated with any other organization anywhere.

"Throughout its 43 years, the WILPF has worked toward the goal of an international organization including all nations, substituting law for war, supervising world disarmament and concerning itself with raising world standards of living."

Replying specifically to Capt. Bollenbeck's question about original directors, Mrs. Mildred Scott Olmsted, Philadelphia, national administrative secretary,

Wheat Farmers Okay 1959 Crop Quotas

Washington — Participating in a 38-state agriculture department referendum, Wisconsin wheat growers voted 38 to 9 Friday in favor of continued federal marketing quotas on the 1959 wheat crop.

The returns from 25 states gave 54,666 votes for and 14,201 against the control program, designed to restrict production and sales when surpluses exist.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Galilee, Israel—After John the Baptist went to prison, Jesus went to the country around the Lake of Galilee to preach the gospel of the kingdom of God. His was a lonely mission until one day, walking along the shore, He saw two fishermen, the brothers Peter and Andrew, casting their nets into the sea. "Follow Me," He exhorted, "and I will make you fishers of men."

The power of His love was so great that straight off they followed Him, dropping their nets and receiving faith to inspire new friends and followers. Today the lovely lake still bespeaks the presence of the greatest of all fishermen.

As I recently walked its shores, fish leaped and flashed over the deep blue water. A long legged bird stood majestically on a rock. Flotsam of feathers, fronds, pine cones and orange peels bobbed on the gentle water. And, like those first apostles, fishermen stood casting their nets into the sea. (AP Newsfeatures)

Question on Etiquet at Resort Hotel

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Another young man and myself have just recently returned from a week's vacation which we spent at a resort hotel. When we arrived the headwaiter seated us at a table with two young women who were strangers to us. We kept this same table for the whole week. The dinner hour was from 6 to 7 o'clock. We always got to the dining room promptly but the two young women usually came in when we were part way through with our meal. I would like to know if it was necessary for us to rise when they came to the table, and also if we should have helped seat them?

Answer: If you exchanged any words with them, even a simple good evening, you should have risen when the young women came to the table. You need not, however, have helped seat them.

Mrs. Post's leaflet E-13, "Showers," includes helpful suggestions for various kinds of showers—for the bride, the newborn baby, and the new neighbor. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

tary, stated Freda Kirchway, former editor of "The Nation," is the only person listed who is a member of the league. None of the others, she said, are directors, founders or members.

She said WILPF did accept about $5,000 from the Garland fund about 30 years ago to finance publication of its bulletin. Mrs. Olmsted contended there were no strings attached to the grant, that it was not a continuing grant and that "it has nothing to do with the communists."

Ghandi Movement
Total disarmament and non-violent means to achieving world peace and world government appear to be the main topics of sessions continuing through Tuesday.

"We believe working for world peace and human freedom is the highest form of patriotism," one member said. Mrs. Olmsted likened the movement to a Ghandi-type effort. About 100 women and a few men are here for the sessions, all of them being held at Colman hall. Mrs. Olmsted, who noted there are a few male members, said most of the men here are husbands of members.

A damper was put on Friday's opening session when it was learned two participants, Mrs. Emma Gray and Miss Grace Arnold, both of Atlanta, were killed in an automobile accident on their way to Appleton. The two were to lead a discussion Tuesday on "Problems in Living in the Deep South."

The telegram was sent from Hopkinsville, Ky. No other information is available.

At conclusion of the evening meeting, a man, stationed outside the dormitory, distributed literature on the Morton Sobell case. Sobell was implicated in the Rosenberg espionage trial and was sentenced to 30 years in prison.

The literature, most of it apparently printed by "The Milwaukee Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell," 914 N. Plankinton street, issued pleas to help free Sobell.

Miss Pell said her organization has no knowledge of the man's identity and disclaimed any association with the Sobell group. She said he probably "was just using us because we're meeting here."

Questions and Answers
Is ageratum a good house plant?

I have had excellent success with ageratum indoors, although I pamper it with extra water, food, and as high humidity as I can manage. Be on the alert against white flies which dearly love this plant.

Why aren't there any good paper-backed books on house plants? It seems to me they would find a ready market especially with people who don't want to pay a lot for a regular book.

There are several paper-backed books on indoor gardening, but I guess they lack good promotional advertising and thus are relatively unknown. Perhaps in future columns I can tell you of some of them; meanwhile, don't forget the Farmers' Bulletin No. 1872, for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, District of Columbia. It costs 15 cents.

I would like to get a papaya to try indoors. Can I start it from seed or must I buy a services at First Methodist plant? What is the proper name?

Papaya is correctly known as Carica papaya, and it makes a good, though large, house plant. It can be started from seed, or you may obtain a plant already started.

All Combustible Rubbish Will be Burned at Plant

Twin City New Sewage Addition To Go Into Near Full Operation

Menasha — The new million dollar incinerator addition to the Twin City sewage disposal plant will swing into near full operation Monday morning.

The plant will begin burning all combustible rubbish, as well as garbage. All non-combustible rubbish will continue to be disposed of at the city dumps, at least for the time being, according to Neenah and Menasha officials.

Twin City residents have been asked to cooperate with disposal crews by putting all combustible rubbish at the curb on regular garbage collection days. Garbage will continue to be picked up from behind the homes, but combustible rubbish must be at the curb.

Non-combustible rubbish, including tin cans, ashes, glass and heavy lumber are to be left at the curb on rubbish collection days only and not on garbage days.

In this manner all garbage and combustible rubbish will be hauled to the incinerator and burned. All non-combustible rubbish will be hauled to the city dumps in Neenah and Menasha.

May Bring to Plant

Residents can dispose of their combustible rubbish by taking it to the incinerator themselves, if they wish. The plant will be open to accept combustible rubbish and garbage from 8 o'clock to 5 o'clock Monday through Friday and from 8 o'clock to noon on Saturdays.

Non-combustible rubbish can be hauled to the city dumps by residents, if they wish.

No change is anticipated in the rubbish or garbage collection date. Twin City officials said.

Bergstrom, co-founder and former president of the Bergstrom Paper company of Neenah, died June 19, 1951. He set up the trust in his will with the provision it was to be distributed to certain organizations and persons upon the death of his wife, Evangeline.

Hoysradt Bergstrom. She died Feb. 13 of this year.

The petition for termination of the trust also asks for a determination of the inheritance tax on the trust bequests. At the time of his death Bergstrom's estate amounted to over $700,000.

The city of Neenah will receive the $50,000 it was granted in the will for a museum since the city has established a museum. Mrs. Bergstrom gave the family home for the museum during her lifetime and provided in her own will a $100,000 bequest plus one-third the residue of her estate for the Neenah Municipal museum.

Church, College Bequests
Bergstrom also provided that from his trust should go an initial bequest of $25,000 each to the First Presbyterian church of Neenah and Lawrence college, a second bequest of $50,000 to the Presbyterian church and $25,000 each to Lawrence college and Theda Clark hospital and the balance of the trust, if any, after other bequests were paid, to the Presbyterian church.

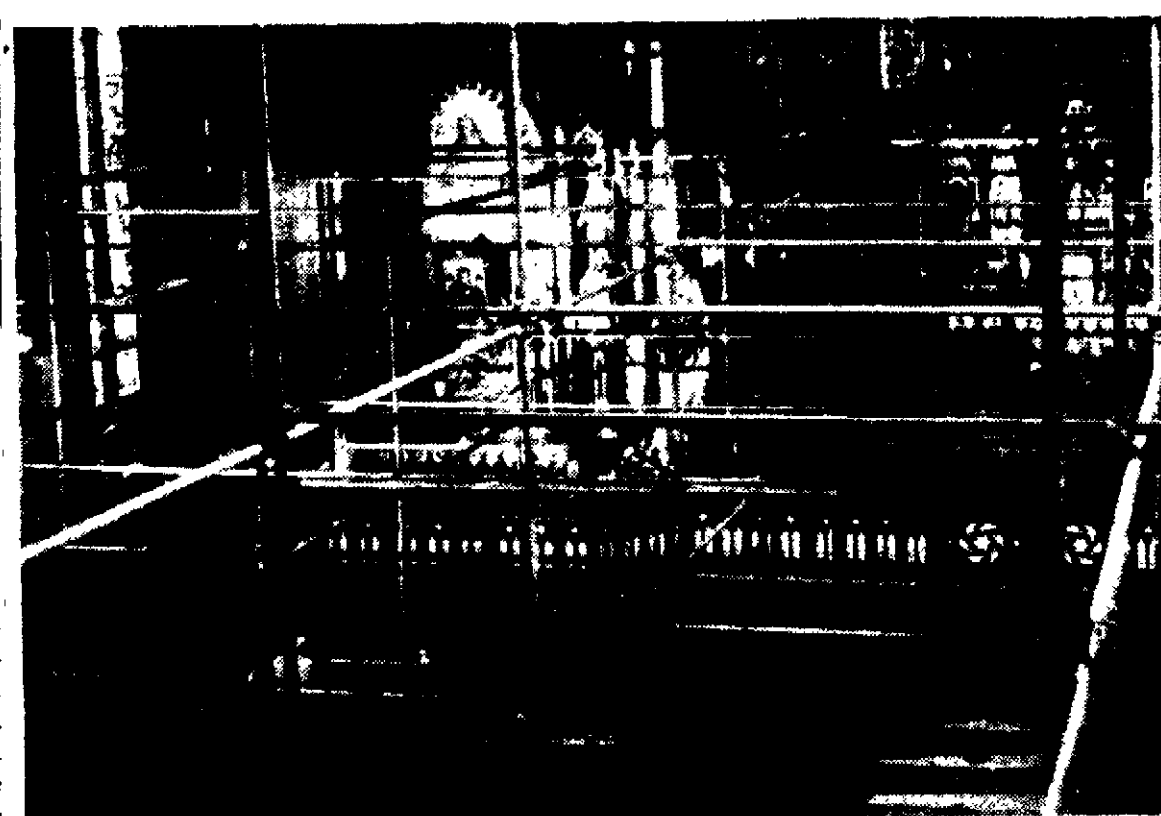

Paper filed Friday with the county judge indicated that 48,000 shares of Bergstrom Paper company stock worth $285,714 already had been transferred to the Presbyterian church from the Bergstrom trust. Carroll college at Waukesha is to receive $2,000 from the trust, the McCormick Theological seminary at Chicago, Ill., will get $5,000 from the trust, the estate of his late brother, Willis Bergstrom, Newark, N. J., $50,000, his sister, Mary R. MacQuarrie, and his brother, Nathan H. Bergstrom, both of Neenah, $12,500 each, and six nieces and nephews $2,500 each.

Village Board Awards Contract For Sewer Work

Former Neenah Man Challenges License Law

David Ferdinand
Claims Reciprocity
Act 'Unconstitutional'

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Wisconsin's reciprocity law whereby a state resident loses his Wisconsin driver's license for an action in another state is being challenged by David F. Ferdinand, 40, Fond du Lac, formerly of Neenah.

Ferdinand Friday filed an appeal in circuit court from his being found guilty by Acting Municipal Judge Herbert J. Mueller of driving after his license had been suspended. Judge Mueller found him guilty of the charge June 4.

Paper filed with the circuit judge indicated New Jersey highway authorities suspended his driving privileges June 20 of last year after an accident in that state. New Jersey authorities stated he had failed to file proof of financial responsibility with them.

Under the reciprocity law, Wisconsin authorities ordered his licenses suspended also. Ferdinand was arrested Nov. 19 of last year while driving in Winnebago county and pleaded innocent.

In his appeal Ferdinand challenges the reciprocal process and also contends the state's action violates the federal constitution as it places him in double jeopardy.

Judge Mueller had imposed a $75 fine on Ferdinand, who formerly operated the South Wind Produce company at Neenah.

Florida Grade Schools Ordered To Integrate

Tallahassee, Fla. — Integration of University of Florida graduate schools next fall was ordered by a federal district court Wednesday and Gov. LeRoy Collins said he expected no difficulty in complying with the decree.

A segregationist leader in the state legislature, Sen. Randolph Hodges, started a move, however, to convene the legislature in special session in an effort to find some way to block the order.

"I believe we have enough votes to call ourselves into special session," Hodges said. "I think we should do it, or we'll wake up some morning and find all our schools are integrated."

Collins rejected the idea of a special session. He said he saw nothing which could be accomplished upon petition of three-fifths of the membership of each house, the secretary of state must call the legislature into special session.

The order by Federal Judge Dozier Devane broke the solid front of segregation in Florida.

4 in Hospital After Accident On Highway 41

Sustain Minor
Injuries as 3
Autos Collide

Neenah — Four persons were hospitalized with minor injuries after a three-car collision at 7:25 Friday night on Highway 41 at the entrance to Bridgewood Golf course.

Hospitalized were Edwin H. Bellin, 51, and Miss Marie Brown, 38, both of 1021 N. Appleton street, Appleton, both at Appleton Memorial hospital, and Joseph G. Baird, 46, and Theodore Beck, 52, both of Chicago, both at Theda Clark hospital in Neenah.

Police pieced this story together after the accident: Wilbert L. Karnopp, 31, 229 Broad street, Menasha, was southbound on highway 41 and had stopped, signalling a left turn into the golf course.

Bellin, also southbound at about 50 miles per hour, saw Karnopp's car but was too close to avoid striking it. He told police he swung into the left (northbound) traffic lane, colliding with Karnopp, and also colliding with Baird, who was northbound.

Bellin will be charged by Neenah police with illegal passing.

Not Injured
Karnopp was unhurt. Bellin and his passenger were taken to Appleton Memorial hospital by Lindy's ambulance, where they were held overnight for observation.

Baird and Beck were taken to Theda Clark hospital in the Neenah ambulance, where they were also held overnight. X-rays were taken of Baird's skull and Beck's chest at the hospital.

Paper Book Jacket Has Cork Design on Its Front Cover

BY CAPPY DICK

During summer vacation when you have your school books home, here's how to make an unusual book cover, especially for your geography book. Use brown wrapping paper and pieces of flat cork which can be bought in a hobby shop.

The first thing to do is make a plain cover from the wrapping paper. To determine the angles of cork may also be cut for the corners of the jacket. Glue the cork pieces to the brown paper. Finally, with crayons, print the book's title on the jacket.

4. How many bridge players are there in the United States?
5. Who authored the phrase, "The mills of God grind slowly, yet they grind exceeding small"?

ANSWERS

1. Eleven different ways, as in the following words: Note, boat, toe, yeoman, soul, row, sew, hautboy, beau, owe, and oh.

correct size, wrap the paper around the book and crease it along the edges, including those at the back. Cut the paper about one inch larger all around to provide edges that can be turned under. Cut out a small square at each corner as in Figure 1, so the folded edges will overlap neatly.

Also make cuts at the lines A-B, C-D, E-F, and G-H and paste the resulting flaps under so the cover will have a double thickness at the top and bottom of the back where the wear is heavy.

The next step is to make the cork design, similar to that in Figure 4, to be glued to the front of the jacket. Select any simple picture you consider suitable for the geography and trace its outline on the sheet of cork. The outline can then be colored with crayons, for cork receives wax colors satisfactorily. Cut the design out of the cork with scissors (Figure 3). Small tri-

Says Economy Needn't Depend On Armaments

AFL-CIO, spoke on the topic: "Can America Sustain Prosperity Without War Production?" The league is an exponent of world disarmament.

Armaments production and the current economic situation was linked by Jacobs. "The cutback order in production prior to the launching of sputnik," he claimed, "triggered the recession."

Replacing the armament budget with public work projects is not the whole answer to the problem, Jacobs felt. He said increased production and expanded markets would not solve the dilemma, either.

Of immediate help would be a tax cut for lower income groups, he said. While public works are a partial solution, establishing machinery to initiate projects moves too slowly for quick relief.

The distress caused by the armament clamp down was due to the government's lack of a program to aid workers totally dependent on such production, Jacobs charged. Legislation now is being formulated, he continued, due to unrest in labor circles.

Expand Research, Culture Jacobs advocated a positive approach to the responsibility of prosperity to reduce the inflationary spiral resulting from accelerated production.

"We must use our ingenuity to enrich our lives," he said.

Now possible to a high-income America, said the labor leader, are highly developed medical research and expanded support of cultural programs. Schools and hospitals could be among public projects benefiting from such a program. Money would thus be channeled to maintain prosperity, yet the economic aid of an armament program would not be necessary.

"It is our present economic policy to fear prosperity because we are afraid to deal with the problem of inflation," Jacobs said. "We prefer to deal with the problem of unemployment."

That was the stand taken by Samuel Jacobs, who addressed the opening session of the United States section of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom Friday night at Colman hall, Lawrence college.

Deadline for filing briefs on a Teamsters local petition to organize workers at the Robert A. Johnston company branch warehouse was set for July 11 by Joseph Cohen, National Labor Relations board examiner, at the conclusion of hearings in Appleton Friday afternoon.

Pirate Rookie Tames Dodgers in 6-Hitter, Bucs Approach 2nd

Righthander George Witt Pockets First Victory in Majors, 2-1; Giants Beaten

By The Associated Press

The long patient Pittsburgh Pirates have plucked another kid pitcher off the farm and now are just a game short of second place in that closely-packed National league race.

The Bucs, winning seven of 10 in a jump from sixth place to third, have counted three of those victories from rookies: Curt Raydon and George Witt, both sturdy right-handers who were allowed to develop slowly in the minors.

Witt, recalled only Sunday from Columbus of the International league, gained his first major league victory Friday night, giving up but six hits while striking out eight as the Bucs beat last place Los Angeles, 2-1.

Take 3-Game Lead

The Milwaukee Braves took a 3-game lead, largest in the NL this season, with a 7-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Philadelphia knocked off second place San Francisco, 5-4, and the Chicago Cubs skidded Cincinnati to third, 11-3, in a game held to eight innings by rain.

Witt, at 24 a 7-year veteran of the minors, gave up a lead-off walk, then retired 12 in a row before giving up the Dodger run on three singles in the fifth. The Pirates scored in the first off loser Sandy Koufax (3-3) on Ted Kluszewski's double and got the clincher in the third on singles by Bill Virdon and Bob Skinner and Dick Groat's fly ball.

The Cubs scored seven runs in the first off Bob Purkey, the 8-game winner who lost his third two in a row to Chicago. Tony Taylor and Al Dark who opened the frame with singles, closed the spurt the same way. Dark was 4 for 5 and drove in three runs as did Sammy Taylor. Once beaten Taylor Phillips won his fifth, giving up 12 hits including a pair of homers by Frank Robinson that drove in all the Red Sox runs.

The Phils won it in the ninth after being behind 8 when Gomez (5-6) forced the tie-breaking run home with a bases-loaded walk. Willie Jones and

A dozen days ago the Tigers were in last place and Norman was a "who he" guy managing Charleston in the American association. Now the 42-year-old Norman has an 8-2 record in the majors and the Tigers are a half game shy of second place.

Playing to a home crowd of 33,168, they knocked off the American league leading New York Yankees again last night,

Aaron Unloads Grand Slam; Logan, Mathews Get Others

Milwaukee — A pair of Braves power hitters flexed their muscles Friday night and the results was a spectacular display of home runs that carried Milwaukee to a full 3-game lead in the National league title chase.

The slumping Hank Aaron provided the big jolt of the evening when he smashed a grand slammer that turned out to be a bit of history repeating itself.

Ed Mathews also produced a major effort when he lashed a 2-run homer.

And Johnny Logan also demonstrated muscle with a solo homer.

The trio of homers provided all the runs as the Braves turned back the St. Louis Cardinals, held in pretty close check by right-hander Bob Rush who doled out four hits but needed help from Don McMahon.

To Play Left

To add irony to the evening, Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney announced shortly after the final score of 7-3 was run up, that Joe Adcock will appear in left field to give the champions a batting punch.

The big first baseman, who has alternated at the infield position with Frank Torre for two seasons, has been working out in left and will make a start as soon as he feels he is ready. Adcock has never played the outfield with the Braves, but did man one of the distant positions with the Cincinnati Redlegs just before he moved to Milwaukee in 1952. At Cincinnati he didn't like the duty.

But with Wes Covington out with a knee injury, the left field situation with the Braves has become desperate. The chore has been shared by Harry Hanebrink and veteran Andy Pafko, hitting 181 and .241 respectively.

Get Some Punch

"We've got to get some punch out there," Haney said. "Joe has been working out in left for the past few days. When he says he's ready, he'll play there. Adcock is hitting .281 with 8 homers and 20 runs batted in.

Aaron's homer came in the eighth as he faced Billy Muffett, and therein lies the history. Last Sept. 23 Aaron faced Muffett in the eleventh inning of a game at County stadium. The Milwaukee right fielder lashed a 2-run homer that gave the Braves a 4-2 victory and insured the National league pennant.

The blast Friday night, first by Aaron this year in County stadium, cleared the fence in straight-away center, 402 feet from the plate.

Leo Posada Breaks Leg

Rochester Loses To Dav-Sox, 5-3; Raiders Triumph

By The Associated Press

Rochester had a double dose of grief Friday night when its star hitter Leo Posada broke his leg during a 5-3 loss to first place Davenport in Three-I league action.

Posada suffered the injury when his spikes caught as he dashed back to third base on an attempted pickoff play. He was taken to a hospital.

Davenport combined nine walks with six hits for its victory. Don Mincher batted in two runs.

Burlington defeated Fox Cities for the fifth straight time, 6-5, and Cedar Rapids came from behind in the last three innings to beat Green Bay, 5-4, in an extra inning game.

Green Bay piled up a 4-0 lead through the seventh and then the Iowa team tied it up on a 4-run barrage in the eighth. John Stratton accounted for two of the runs and Bob Taylor and Horace Garner one apiece.

Norman's Tigers Hot

Bill Norman, the new boss of the Detroit Tigers, talks a bit like Casey Stengel manages a bit like Casey Stengel and wins a bit like Casey Stengel. He also happens to be 5-0 against Casey Stengel.

"Willie Caid," as Norman calls himself a nickname picked up long ago as an outfielder in the St. Louis Cardinals farm system, rambles some in conversation but says only the Tigers are hep to him.

A dozen days ago the Tigers were in last place and Norman was a "who he" guy managing Charleston in the American association. Now the 42-year-old Norman has an 8-2 record in the majors and the Tigers are a half game shy of second place.

Playing to a home crowd of 33,168, they knocked off the American league leading New York Yankees again last night,

Foxes Open Road Trip at Cedar Rapids

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Today, the Fox Cities Foxes applied ointment to a new rash of Bee stings and headed for Cedar Rapids and a weekend series with their favorite Three-I league spar mates.

Friday night, the Foxes attacked the Burlington hive for the third time this week, and for the third time got stung. Red-hot Burlington won, 6-5, for its nineteenth triumph in 24 starts since quitting the league basement.

For the Foxes, it was the fifth straight loss to Burlington and the ninth in 13 engagements.

The Foxes figure to be a little happier to see Cedar Rapids as their foe since they've measured the Raiders six times in nine tries. Lefty Dick Griffith is the probable Foxes' starter tonight.

Though the Foxes made a noteworthy comeback last night, they discovered that it's highly inadvisable to spot a streaking club like Burlington six runs. Especially, if that club happens to be blessed with the league's premier relief pitcher, Ed Donnelly.

In completing its sweep of the 3-game series, Burlington hopped on Fox Cities right-hander Rene Nodarse for two in the second (on Ralph Holding's double), one in the third (on Gordie Massa's homer) and three in the sixth (on Jim Woods' circuit blast).

21st Appearance

The Foxes finally entered the run-scoring business and got five of them back. But, Donnelly, making his twenty-first appearance in 51 games, shut the door and after the seventh inning made the one run look as big as a dozen.

The two vital Burlington batters gave the Bees a 7-1 homer edge in the series — a long ball ratio typical of that which has hurt the Foxes in other home series.

Last night, the Foxes got nothing longer than singles — four of them, all told — and though they didn't waste any of them, there just weren't enough to go around.

Winner Ken Goerger, a southpaw, got along famously for five innings, pitching hitless baseball. But, the Foxes ended both his no-hit aspirations and his tenure on the mound with a 3-run sixth.

Two Runs Score

Two Bees crossed the plate in the second. With one out, Dennis Loudonback singled to left, and Fred Caviness scratched a hit off Carlos Pascual's glove.

Ralph Holding smacked a double to right center, scoring both men. For Holding, a rookie catcher from Stanford, it was the third and fourth RBIs in only two professional games.

Burlington made it 3-0 in the third as Massa smacked his second homer of the series — and second of his entire pro career — over the right center field wall.

In the sixth, Massa reached base on Billy Bone's bobble. Don Voigt singled to deep short. Woods slammed a pitch high and far over the left field fence — his ninth homer of the season.

Taylor Singles

The Foxes quit their dormant state in the sixth. Nodarse walked, and after a fly-out, Don Danton also strolled. Tex Taylor lined a single over the second baseman's head.

Reedsville at Kaukauna.

Appleton at Oshkosh.

One of the top games of the Fox River Valley Amateur Baseball league season is on tap for Sunday afternoon when the Menasha Macs invade Little Chute to play Little Chute-Kimberly.

The front-running Chutes have yet to taste defeat and are currently boasting a 6-game winning streak. The Macs will be looking for their fifth straight triumph after a 3-2 opening-game loss to Manitowish.

Either right-hander Al Harke or lefty Clete Wynboom will probably top for the hosts. L.S.K.'s top hurler, right-hander Bob Schmidt, pitched nine innings Thursday evening and will possibly be used in relief. Schmidt has been the winning hurler in four of the Little Chute-Kimberly triumphs. Wynboom has a 2-0 mark.

Drury May Hurl

Southpaw Mort Drury, who holds two of the Macs' four league wins, will probably be manager "Butch" Konetzke's starting selection. Drury joined the team late after finishing the school term at Wyoming university.

Previous to Thursday's tight 1-0 victory over Freedom, L.C.K. had collected 53 runs in five games.

Meriden, Conn. — A 38-year-old factory worker trudged off the Meriden municipal golf course Friday night after playing 324 consecutive holes of golf in a 24-hour period.

Arthur Smith of Meriden claimed he broke the existing record by three holes. He said the previous mark—321 holes in a 24-hour span—was held by John J. Johnson Jr., of Fort Worth, Texas.

Rathiff, 1763, Los Angeles. Six cars followed Smith to knocked off Bob Parrish, 174, provide light and he used luminous golf balls.

Pair of World Marks Bettered

Harold Connolly, Glenn Davis Star In AAU Meet

Bakersfield, Calif. —A pair of swift Australians shoot at the world record in the mile run tonight in the 70th annual National AAU track and field championships. Two international marks already have been bettered.

Herb Elliott and Merv Lincoln won their mile heats with ease Friday night to set up their duel over the clay track at the Bakersfield stadium tonight. Elliott won in 4:01.4 and Lincoln in 4:07.9.

World records fell to homegrown athletes in the hammer throw and the 440-yard hurdles. Boston's Harold Connolly hurled the 16-pound ball 225 feet 4 inches to surpass the record of 220-10 set by Russia's M. P. Krivonozov in 1936. Ohio State's speedy Glenn Davis ran the hurdles in 49.9 seconds to lay claim to his third world record.

Holds Mark
The Buckeye runner holds the official world record for the 400-meter hurdles at 49.5 seconds. A week ago he sped 440 yards on the flat in 45.7 to clip a tenth of a second off that standard.

Connolly, who needed an injection to ease pain in an injured left collar bone, got off his record toss on his final throw.

DeJohn Cops Decision Over Bob Baker

Syracuse, N. Y. —It's a rare occasion when a decision for a home town fighter gets a boozing from the fans.

But that's what happened at War Memorial auditorium Friday night when ninth ranked heavyweight contender Mike DeJohn of Syracuse was awarded a unanimous verdict over unranked Bob Baker of Pittsburgh in a televised 10-rounder.

The officials all had DeJohn ahead by decisive margins. Referee Joe Palmer and Judge Dick Albino each had it 6-3-1 in rounds Judge Harold McGrath scored it 7-3.

Of five boxing writers polled at the ringside, all had DeJohn the winner. The AP card had Mike in front, 7-3.

There was a loud dissent from Baker.

"I should have gotten a draw at least," he fumed.

Feminine Ballplayer, 80, Concedes She's Slowing Down a Bit

Stockville, Neb. —Mrs. Charlotte Phillips Thompson concedes she's not the base runner she used to be.

"I hit as many home runs as anybody on the team. But I seldom get past first base because I more or less stand and vibrate when I run," she explains. "I must be getting old."

It's all right Mrs. Phillips. A lady who will be 80 next Nov. 6 is entitled to slow down.

Mrs. Thompson is a rural school teacher. She does her playing with the kids in the school yard.

What keeps her in trim during the summer for those schoolyard games?

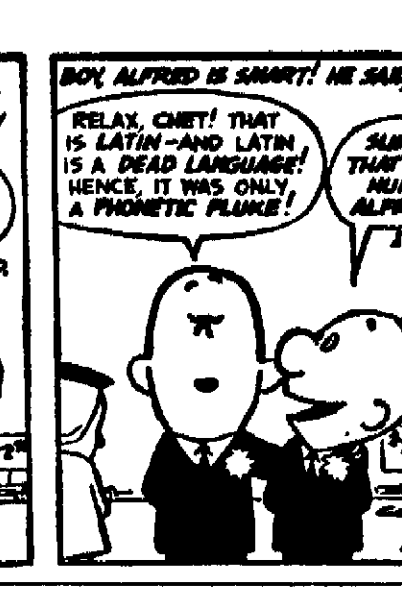

"Oh, my—go on a dead run around the ranch from morning to night."

Basic Boating Rig for Family of 4 Costs in Neighborhood of $1,000

BY DION HENDERSON
As the cement-weary millions continue to turn their little footprints toward the outdoors, the odds improve that if you find an unfamiliar hand in your money pocket it belongs to a boat salesman.

If you're a veteran boatman of a couple of seasons, you already know most of the mistakes you made and perhaps have almost completed the monthly payments thereon. You can do that, nowadays, with financing arrangement, very like those for a car. With about the same number of digests, too, because even a basic boating rig adequate for a family of four costs in the neighborhood of $1,000.

Serviceable Boat
A grand in the hand will cover a perfectly serviceable 14-foot boat, big enough for four persons with personal equipment, a motor in the 18-25 horsepower class for brisk cruising and reasonable water skiing, such odds and ends as buoyant cushions, kid life jackets, fire extinguisher, night lights, and finally for a trailer, to haul the whole works around.

The breakdown would look like this: an aluminum or fiberglass boat requiring little maintenance—$375; motor $400-$450; trailer $125; accessories $50-$100.

If you'd like to do a little

Trout Fishing Hits Peak in Some Counties

Madison — May fly hatches have brought trout fishing to a peak in several Wisconsin counties during the past week, the Conservation department said today in its weekly fishing report.

Fishing generally ranges from fair to excellent in all except the northeastern portion of the state. Conservation wardens there said it is not up to par due to cold and unsettled weather. Some warm evenings would step up the catch considerably, they added.

Fair to good catches are being made on the Mississippi river back waters with conditions there expected to improve as waters continue to clear.

Good musky fishing is reported in Price, Sawyer, Taylor and Vilas counties with some action in Washburn and Forest. A 48-pounder was taken this week from Court Orillies near Hayward and a 40-pounder from Cedar lake in Polk county.

Actually, she and two Carleton chums, Barbara Nilsen and Gwen Colecott, entered the collegiate as somewhat of a lark.

But the Olivia, Minn., girl far underestimated her ability. And as she modestly admitted, "After this tournament, maybe I am better than I thought."

In the last three rounds she defeated National Amateur champion Joanne Gunderson, Collegiate and Western Amateur champion Meriam Bailey and Miss Bell, a 21-year-old who has been competing in top golf circles for several years.

Patty Berg Leads In Western Open

Erie, Pa. —Defending champion Patty Berg carried a 1-stroke lead today in the third round of the 72-hole Women's Western Open golf tournament.

Miss Berg, who seeks her seventh Western open title, 18-1, behind the 2-hit, 14 strike-posted a one under par 72, Friday after firing a 75 in the opening round that gave her a 36-hole total of 147, one stroke better than Beverly Hansen of Idaho, Calif.

better for yourself, be prepared for a considerable increase in the price tag.

For instance, a 15 or 16 foot runabout, fiberglass or plywood, may cost up to $1,200 or so, depending on the refinements of its upholstery, convertible top and tail fins. But its motor should be in the 35-50 horsepower class, probably electric starting, which means a price tag of around $750. A more substantial trailer means up to twice the cost of a lightweight, and accessories run into whatever you like.

Family Trend

The family trend, however, would seem to be into the minimum cruiser class rather than the fancy runabout. A useful one in aluminum, wood or glass can be had to $1,600, plus another $250 for bunks, hardware, lights and fittings for sleeping a couple of adults and a couple of youngsters. One big motor will cost from $900 to $1,100 with remote controls and such, two smaller ones somewhat more.

Allowing $350 for a trailer, that still puts a family afloat in a livable cruiser for—well, say in the neighborhood of $3,000.

And that's right next door to the cost of what is called a lowpriced car nowadays.

Village Board Levies Street Assessments

Hortonville — The village board levied a $2 a lineal foot assessment on street improvements for residents on Appleton, Main and W. Main streets.

Some 25 property owners appeared at the public hearing that preceded the assessment action Thursday.

The board also directed property owners to install new sidewalks and repair old sidewalks along the Appleton street project from pumping station 284 to the railroad right of way. The street committee is to report on the walk situation at the July 3 meeting.

George Bellie was granted a building permit for a $7,500 home on W. Main street.

Operator's licenses were granted to Carlyn Buchanan, Len Dietzler, James Mischke, Al Buckholz, Louis Klein and Louise Bonnin.

The board also granted a beer license on a special permit to the Commercial club for the Homecoming celebration and to the Hortonville Athletic association for home games.

Man, 25, Fined for Wandering in Office

Kenneth G. Kirkland, 25, 1131 W. Grant street, was fined $25 Friday for wandering into a downtown insurance office shortly after it opened the morning of June 10 and using a women's restroom.

Police told Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiegge Kirkland had been drinking.

Check Charge Dropped

A charge of issuing a worthless check for $10 was dropped Friday against Lyle J. Baurman, 52, 1124 W. Grant street, after the complaining witness, an employee of Shine's Super bar, 323 W. College avenue, told the court he would not press the charge. Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiegge ordered the warrant for Baurman's arrest withdrawn after Dist. Atty. George Greisch agreed not to prosecute.

Thomson Denies New Skenandore Ouster

Governor Says Woman's Petition Seeking Sheriff's Removal Doesn't Follow Procedure

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Gov. Vernon W. Thomson late Friday again spurned a demand for the removal of Brown county Sheriff Arley Skenandore, notifying the chief complaining witness against him that her petition was out of order because it did not follow legal requirements.

The governor told Mrs. Mary Ann Sanderson, who claims in her new petition that she bribed the sheriff, that the document she filed with the executive office earlier in the week was a carbon copy. The law requires an original and verified petition to be served upon the chief executive of the state in removal proceedings involving a county officer, he explained.

The copy, he reminded Mrs. Sanderson, must be served upon the person complained against.

Report Sent

Simultaneously, the governor transmitted to Francis Evrard, corporation counsel of the county, a complete copy of a report by an investigator filed two months ago which advised the governor that there was no grounds for the removal of the sheriff.

The governor repeated that the report is identical with a copy in the possession of the Brown county district attorney, under whom investigator Frank J. Larkin worked when he made the original inquiry against the sheriff.

The governor explained he was sending the executive office copy in response to the action of the county board this week in refusing to pay Larkin's claim for salary and extension until it had received the beverage tax division agent's complete Larkin report.

The governor praised Larkin for the woman in care of his qualifications, as he did before he is a man "whose ability, partiality and probity" are dress.

Used Woman's Story

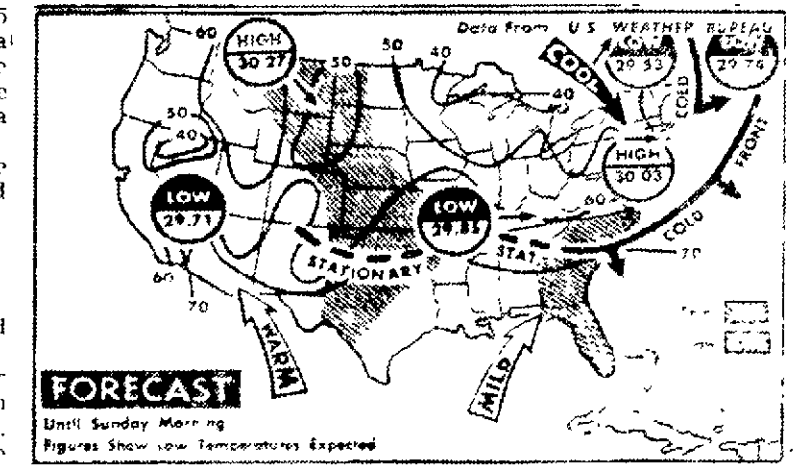

Leanna and his lawyer, Owen Monfils of Green Bay, have leaned heavily upon alleged charges by Mrs. Sanderson that she got "protection" from the sheriff in return for money payments. The sheriff has insisted that money from Mrs. Sanderson was a loan and that it was repaid.

The Larkin report called the money a loan and Mrs. Sanderson in an interview with the investigator confirmed the transaction as a loan.

In her new petition Mrs. Sanderson returns to her original charge that the money was paid to influence the sheriff.

Mrs. Sanderson's premises in this rural Brown county were closed last spring as a house of prostitution after a raid by state police until it had received the beverage tax division agent's complete Larkin report.

The governor addressed his letter to the woman in care of his qualifications, as he did before he is a man "whose ability, partiality and probity" are dress.
